You are continuing on your journey this week of becoming an adult. As an adult, you must choose a career path. Keep in mind when viewing careers, you should choose what interests you. Your career is where you will be going everyday. You will enjoy life so much more if you love your job. :)

Engage and Practice (What do we want you to do?):

I know you want to become teachers so you are going to view short videos on different jobs in the education field. This will help you to understand what you need to do to obtain that position.
